The quietest chore, done one checkbox at a time.

Change-of-Address Master List · getting started

WHO THIS SHEET IS FOR

Anyone facing a move who would like it to feel a little calmer. Everything here is free, prints on plain letter paper, works offline, and asks nothing back — no account, no email, no app. Print it, tape it, scribble on it. That is the whole requirement.

WHAT YOU NEED

- About twenty minutes with your mail pile
- Your new address and your start date, written at the top before you begin

HOW TO USE IT

1. Start with the USPS line, then your bank and insurance. Everything else will follow, one coffee break at a time.
2. Each time someone confirms, write the date in the 'Confirmed' column. The pencil date is what makes this a master list instead of a worry list.
3. Let the mail keep flowing. Old senders keep sending mail for months, and each new letter is a free reminder of whom to update.

One warm tip: You do not need to finish this before the move. Twenty addresses in ink, five in the notes column, is a great month.
